

Global Traffic Technologies would like to congratulate the City of Portland for being presented with the “ITS America Smart City Award”.

As noted in the press release from ITS America: “The ITS America Smart City Award is presented only to communities that are leaders in deploying Intelligent Transportation Systems to address critical transportation challenges,” said Scott Belcher, ITS America President & CEO. “The City of Portland is certainly worthy of this recognition”.

“We have been fortunate to work with the City of Portland for a number of years as the manufacturer of the Opticom™ System, said Rick Sachse, President of Global Traffic Technologies. We started by providing the system used by emergency vehicles and the same system has been expanded into the transit signal priority system, maximizing the benefits that can be attained by other agencies within the city. We are pleased that our system helped to contribute to the success of their program”.
